

U. S. REPORTS NEW GAINS ON ATTU ISLAND

STRIKES END AT THREE BIG AKRON PLANTS

Unionists Complying With Noon Deadline Set by President

PRODUCTION STOP COVERS FIVE DAYS

Goodrich Local Asks Reconsideration of WLB Decision

(By Associated Press)
AKRON, May 27.—CIO unionists
ended strikes at three major Akron rubber plants today, complying with the noon deadline set in a presidential ultimatum concerning a five-day production stoppage that threw
more than 50,000 into idleness.

A small shift returned to war jobs
at the B. F. Goodrich Co. just as the deadline approached after United Rubber Workers unionists
there decided to observe the commander-in-chief's order.

The back-to-work movement
started earlier at the Goodyear Tire
& Rubber Co. and the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. Employees straggled into the plants throughout the morning and six hours after the first men reported on the 6 a. m.
(Eastern War Time) shift. Firestone guards estimated 50 per cent of the force was on the job.

A company spokesman who declined use of his name said about 2,000 reported at the beginning of the first shift at Goodyear, and others straggled into the plants for several hours. General Tire & Rubber Co. reported a full working force on the job.

Vote To Resume
Only a few employees entered the Goodrich gates until after a 10
a. m. meeting of the company's day
shift workers. George H. Bass, president of the Goodrich local,
announced the men decided to resume production at once. The meeting also approved a June 16 deadline for reconsideration by the War
Labor board of a wage decision
that touched off the stoppage.

Union leaders said they expected full shifts to report at 2 p. m. at all four plants. A Goodyear spokesman indicated normal operations
could not be resumed immediately,
however, asserting it would take
"all day and a good part of tomorrow to balance up our production."

AUGUST DATES SET FOR WOMEN'S CAMP

Columbiana County homemakers
will be interested to know that plans are under way for the annual women's camp to be held
Aug. 5-8 at Camp Crag in Medina county, says Erma Ramseyer, home demonstration agent. This is a joint camp planned for homemakers
of Medina, Summit, Holmes, Lorain, Ashland, Wayne and Colum-biana counties.

Last week Mrs. Rena Whitehead of North Georgetown and Mrs. H. L. Reuter, Lisbon, R. F. D., attended the camp planning meeting at Wooster at which time the program for the camp was planned.

Rural homemakers who would be interested in having more information concerning this women's camp can get in touch with Erma Ramseyer, agricultural extension service, court house, Lisbon.

Pensioner, 76, Dies After Family Fight

Wharton Hall Succumbs At Home Near Garfield; Thomas Campbell, Jr., Held by Mahoning Police

Wharton Hall, 76, an old age pensioner and father of 11 children,
died following a fight with his brother-in-law, Thomas Campbell,
Jr., 33, at their rural Mahoning
county home on the Seacrest road,
about a mile east of Garfield,
shortly after 5:30 p. m. Wednesday.

The elder man died as the result of a blow struck on the back of his head by Campbell's first,
Mahoning deputy sheriffs said.

The men had quarreled frequently,
the authorities learned, ever since the Hall family moved into the Campbells' six-room house, a short distance from Hall's small abode
from which they had been evicted.

In all, 14 persons were living
under the one roof.

During the course of last evening's argument, Campbell is reported to have hit Hall with his fist. The elder man collapsed. A Salem doctor was called and pronounced the man dead. Campbell was taken into custody by Mahoning county deputies.

At present Campbell is being held on an open charge pending an investigation by Coroner D. H. Hauser of Mahoning county. Campbell is employed by the Galant Products
Co. of Alliance.

Mr. Hall's body was brought to the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home.

Surviving are his wife; five daughters, Mrs. Anna Raub, Mrs.
Lois Lofland, Mrs. Inez Kilkenny
and Miss Ruby Hall of Sebring, Iowa, at home; and five sons, Willam, in the army in Hawaii, Howard, in the army in Washington state, Ronald, Melvin and Glen, at home.

Rev. Asmus, Louis Raymond Are Memorial Day Speakers

Services To Be Held at Grandview and Hope Cemeteries; Parade Scheduled at 2 P. M.

Salem residents will pause not only for worship Sunday but to pay tribute to the war dead in a Memorial day observance which comes at a time when the city can honor its new heroes of World War II.

Arrangements were completed today for the Memorial day rites which will be held at Hope and Grandview cemeteries following a parade through the downtown section.

Price Cope will serve as marshal of the day.

FRESH UPSURGE IN KUBAN NIGHT SEEN

Both Germans, Russians
Report Intensified
Warfare

BULLETIN

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, May 27.—Reuters
reported a German News agency
dispatch broadcast by the Berlin radio tonight as saying that German troops, yielding before a Soviet offensive, had evacuated a strip of the Kuban
bridgehead several miles wide
and a mile and a half deep.

LONDON, May 27.—A violent up-surge in the land and air battle
for the Kuban valley bridgehead
held by the Nazis in the Caucasus
was indicated today by Russian and German reports of intensified fighting from Novorossisk northward to Temryuk on the Sea of Azov.

The Russians announced in their midnight communique that they had smashed back two counter-attacks against German battalions totaling about 1,600 men, and a special broadcast from Moscow later reported 67 German planes shot down in the area northeast of Novorossisk, with a loss of 20 Soviet planes.

The German radio asserted 400
Russians had been killed and 800
captured in fighting near Temryuk
but acknowledged the Russians
had regrouped their forces and heavier fighting was in prospect.

The Germans, too, issued reports that other sectors of the long Russian front had come alive, with heavy Russian attacks that dented
the German lines southwest of Velikie Luki and large scale Soviet scouting activity south of Staraya Ruscia.

The Germans said their troops
were forced to withdraw temporarily from the main defense line
below Velikie Luki but that a counter-attack reestablished the position. Velikie Luki is 270 miles west of Moscow and 90 miles from the Latvian border.

The German also declared a Soviet scouting party had invaded their lines south of Staraya rus
before being repulsed. Staraya Russia is 285 miles northwest of Moscow.

The noon communique, recorded
by the Soviet radio monitor here,
made no mention of the Caucasus
fighting and gave no confirmation of the German claims of the fighting in the north.

Heads Tax Board

COLUMBUS, May 27.—Gov. John W. Bricker today appointed Robert H. Hoffman, a Columbus attorney, to the chairmanship of the state board of tax appeals.
Hoffman will take over the $5,000-a-year position on June 16 and he serves until February, 1945. He succeeds Hugh Jenkins, who has been appointed administrator of the Bureau of unemployment compensation.
Hoffman is a former state senator and former Franklin county auditor.

Rev. Carl Asmus, pastor of the First Methodist church, will be the speaker at Grandview cemetery.
Louis J. Raymond will speak at Hope cemetery.

The parade, headed by the Salem
High school band, will form on S.
Broadway, near State st., at 2 p. m.
The cemetery exercises are scheduled for 2:30.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars will be in charge of the services at Grandview cemetery, with Philip Triem camp, Sons of Union Veterans sponsoring the Hope cemetery
program. Rev. Robert C. Mosher, pastor of the First Friends church,
will serve as chaplain at Hope cemetery. The V. F. W. will have its own chaplain at Grandview.

School children are asked to march in the parade. Boys and girls who march will be given tickets
to free movie Tuesday at the Grand theater. In assembling for the parade, the school children are asked to meet in front of the G. A. R. to receive flags and place assignments.

Persons wishing to donate flowers for decoration of graves are asked to leave them at G. A. R. hall Saturday afternoon. Ladies of the auxiliaries are requested to meet in the hall Saturday evening and make the flowers into bouquets.

In the event of rain, the Memorial day exercises will be held in the High school auditorium.

The complete order of service at Hope cemetery will be:

Scripture reading and invocation,
Rev. Mosher; reading of Gen. Logan's order to the Grand Army
John C. Litty; selection by High school band; address, Louis Raymond; Gettysburg address, Herbert Hansell; Women's Relief Corp. memorial service; closing prayer, Rev.
Mosher; salute by Sons of Veterans firing squad; taps.

The parade lineup will be: High school band, marshal and his aides,
servicemen who are home, Legionnaires and auxiliary members, Sons of the Legion, automobiles and city officials, speakers, W. R. C., Daughters of Union Veterans in cars,
school children escorted by Sons of Union Veterans, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts.

61 LISBON GRADE PUPILS GRADUATE

LISBON, May 27.—Sixty-one eighth grade pupils received promotion certificates at graduation exercises this morning in the High school auditorium.

The class address was given by Rev. Joseph T. Brownlee, pastor of the United Presbyterian church.
Supt. H. C. Leonard awarded the certificates.

Thomas McKenna and Delores Price were disclosed as winners of the American Legion achievement
medals, which were presented by
C. L. Wetzel.

Convention Planned

CLEVELAND, May 27.—The 1943
annual meeting of the Grand Lodge
of Ohio, Free and Accepted Masons,
will be held Oct. 20-21 in Columbus.
Deputy Grand Master A. A. Stephens announced.
Another fraternal organization
with a similar name, the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, Prince Hall affiliation, recently announced postponement of its annual convention which was scheduled for Columbus in August.

U. S. BOMBERS LASH ITALY'S ISLE DEFENSE

Flying Fortresses Blast
Sicilian Air Base
At Comiso

SARDINIA TARGETS HEAVILY POUNDED

More Than 360 Axis Planes Destroyed In Eight-
Day Period

(By Associated Press)
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, May 27.—American bombers struck savagely again
at Italy's southern island air defenses on Sicily, Sardinia and Pan-telleria yesterday. Flying Fortresses blasting the big Sicilian air base at Comiso from substra-
sphere height, it was announced
today.

Mitchell and Marauder medium bombers at the same time swept in to attack enemy air field at Ponte Olivio. They were escorted by Lightning fighter planes.

Bomb-loaded Lightnings and Warhawks, both designed as fighter planes, kept up their assaults on Sardinian targets, hitting grounded aircraft at Villacidro air field and leaving a large supply vessel burning at Golfo Aranci.

Warhawks bombed the isolated
little island of Pantelleria again.

Five enemy aircraft officially were reported destroyed in this theater in 24 hours, making a total of 348 Axis planes claimed destroyed in eight days in the air
and on the ground by the Northwest African Air Force squadrons alone.

The actual total undoubtedly is higher, air sources said, because no figures have been given out since early in the week regarding planes destroyed on the ground.

(With 12 planes listed by Middle East and Malta fliers, the total for the period runs to at least 360
planes destroyed.)

Today's headquarters communications also announced direct hits
were scored on the power station
at Tirso, in Sardinia, whose power
is generated by the Tirso dam,
largest on the island.

From all operations of the Northwest African air forces two planes
are missing.

Axis Defense Slim
Reports of Marauder and Mitchell crews who blanketed Biscari and Ponte Olivio air fields
with fragmentation bombs indicated air resources kept by the enemy in Sicily at present were slender.

No enemy planes attempted to intercept either of these raids.
Fliers said "a few aircraft" were caught on the ground at Ponte Olivio and wrecked.

Fighter-bomber Lightnings, augmented by Warhawks, ravaged Sardinian targets.

(The Italian communique, broadcast by the Rome radio and recorded by the Associated Press, acknowledged Allied air raids on several places in Sardinia and on Pantelleria and said seven were killed and 21 injured. It said eight Allied planes were shot down, six
by anti-aircraft fire and two by Axis fighter planes.)

(Italian torpedo planes which attacked a strongly-escorted Mediterranean convoy hit one destroyer
and Axis bombers attacked the road and railway line between Marsa Matruh and El Daba, in northern Egypt, Italians said.)

TRIBE BEATEN IN SWING SHIFT TILT

BOSTON, May 27.—Tex Hughson,
ace Red Sox hurler, held the league-leading Cleveland Indians to five hits today to score a 2-0 shutout in a morning game for war workers on the swing shift. The attendance was 1,803.

The Sox, who opened a long home
stay, scored all their runs in the fifth inning, when, 1-2, two out, Lake and Fox hit safely. Hughson drew a base on balls to fill the sacks. Bobby Doer then came through with a single to left to send home Lake and Fox.

It was the second morning game
in the big leagues this year. On May 3, 2,598 fans turned out for a pre-noon game at Cincinnati.

Parade at Damascus

DAMASCUS, May 27.—The Goshen High school band will provide music for the community's Memorial day program at 2 p. m.
Sunday at the Damascus cemetery.
The band will lead the procession
to the cemetery.

First Pictures of Yankees Retaking Attu Island

Attack on Attu island in the Aleutians by American troops is shown in these first photos of the new offensive. Hundreds of soldiers land on the black, volcanic sands of Massacre bay from landing barges, top, unload their equipment and start after the Jap defenders. A foothold established, the Yanks pushed inland, where the lower picture, of an American machine gun nest, was taken in the front lines by a photographer who had to crawl on his stomach to avoid being struck by enemy fire. These are official United States Navy photos.

JAP ATTU DEFENSE IS WARNING TO U.S.

Indicates Measures Enemy
Will Go To In Quest
For Power

By DEWITT MACKENZIE.
The fierce defense being made by the Japs in the face of our determined attack on their positions
among the volcanic crags of Attu provides one of the outstanding lessons of the protracted battle on this tiny, fog-shrouded Aleutian island.

It's a harsh reminder of what the Allies are up against in their task of smashing the Japanese nation as a whole.

Of course this isn't the first time
by any means that the mikado's
savages have exhibited such tenacity. More than once in this war
we've seen them battle until the last man was dead.
Frequently they make suicidal
stands which serve no useful purpose, merely because the old shon-
gun code says a soldier is dishonored if he surrenders under any circumstances. In theory the man who gives himself up becomes a pariah and is an exile from his motherland.

Means Trouble

Still, this Jap characteristic has been brought closer to home in the hand-to-hand conflict on the queer little American possession with the name that sounds like a man spitting tobacco juice against the wind.
It means trouble.

There could be no more pointed warning of the need of the utmost speed in cleaning up Hitler so that the entire Allied striking-power can be turned against the Nipponese at the earliest possible moment. The enormous force which the United Nations will be able to mass, when
the Axis is beaten, will do the job,
but it becomes harder with each passing day allowed the Japs to consolidate their positions.

The burden of speeding up rests
in large degree on intensification of civilian effort. If we provide the resources, the fighting services will do the rest. There can be no
turn to JAP, Page 6.

Missing In Action

Two district men are included in the War department's list of 13 Ohio
soldiers who are missing in action
on the far-flung battlefronts.
Listed as missing in North Africa
are Pvt. Floyd K. Cramer of East Liverpool and Pfc. Robert W. Kline
of Alliance.

Medal for Yamamoto

(By Associated Press)
A DNB dispatch broadcast by the Berlin radio said today Adolf Hitler had awarded the German knight's cross of the iron cross with oak leaves and swords posthumously
to Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto of Japan "in appreciation of his merits in the common fight of our arms."

The Tokyo radio said Yamamoto died in air combat on the southern front of the Pacific war in April.

YANK BOMBERS SET SINGLE-DAY MARK

Destroy 74 German Planes
May 21 Over Emden and Wilhelmshaven

U. S. EIGHTH AIR FORCE
HEADQUARTERS, England, May 27.—British-based United States
heavy bombers established a record
for a single day's war by destroying 74 German planes May 21 during the unscattered raids on submarine
construction yards at Emden and Wilhelmshaven, it was announced
today.

Twelve bombers were lost in this joint action.

The record bag of enemy craft
brought the total to 297 destroyed
in eight raids which embraced 18
targets during May.

The previous high for a single day was 64 shot down during the four-day attack on Kiel, Antwerp, Courtrai, France, and Velsen, Holland, May 14 by medium and heavy bombers. Eleven heavy bombers were lost on those raids.

With four days remaining in May the bombers, out in greater strength than ever before, a ready have dropped a greater weight of bombs on Nazi targets in Europe
than they had in any entire month
since the first United States raid was made from Britain Aug. 17, 1942.

Also the month's operations have produced the highest losses for the Americans, 49 heavy bombers. Holland, in view of the far greater strength
of the raiding forces, however, observers considered the losses not out of line with previous percentages. Seventeen bombers were lost in nine raids covering 12 targets
during March.

MACHINIST UNION BREAKS WITH AFL

Half-Million Members Will Withdraw; Jurisdictional
Dispute Blamed

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 27.—The International Association of Machinists with a reputed membership
well over half a million, announced
today it is quitting the American Federation of Labor as of May 31
because of a long standing jurisdictional row.

The AFL thus lost almost the same numerical strength it stands
to gain by the prospective readmittance of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers.

The jurisdictional fight involves chiefly William L. Hutcheson's Carpenters union, which the Machinists contend has been
"muscling in" on its field with the sanction of the AFL executive council.

Machinists' President Harvey W.
Brown said the break after 48
years affiliation is regrettable, but
"if we are going to continue to get a beating we are not going to pay for it."

The machinists' per capita tax payments to the AFL have averaged about $60,000 a year. The union has been growing rapidly,
however, because of organization
in the aircraft field and tax payments on the full, claimed membership would substantially exceed $60,000.

Brown said the IAM would remain independent, "with the hope that the machinists will be given
the same consideration as other unions."

The IAM president said he did not know "at the moment" how the turn to MACHINIST, Page 5.

CHURCH TO OBSERVE RURAL LIFE SUNDAY

Next Sunday, Rural Life Sunday,
will be observed with suitable services at the Winona Methodist church.
Rev. Jack Klein announces a special service built around the rural life theme at the morning worship
period at 11, and a community program at 8 in the evening. Various rural organizations will attend in groups and take part in the program.

Rev. H. E. Stout of Damascus, state institute speaker, will deliver the address. Everyone is welcome.

YANKS HOLD FOOTHOLD ON ENEMY RIDGE

American Casualties Have Been Light, To Date,
Navy Reports

127 DEAD IS TOLL IN DRIVE ON JAPS

U. S. Troops Preparing for Drive On Remaining
Fox Positions

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 27.—American forces supported by a naval bombardment and attacking army
bombers and fighters have won a foothold on a ridge south of enemy-held Chichagof harbor after two days of hard fighting, the navy reported today.

Despite the ferocity of the fighting on Attu, Secretary of War
Stimson reported today, the American casualties have been relatively light, with preliminary reports indicating the army had lost 127
killed, 399 wounded and 118 missing.

"We have reason to believe that Japanese losses have been much heavier," Stimson said at a press conference.

He added that army troops on Attu are making steady progress toward the destruction of the pockets of Japanese resistance.
The enemy has been cleared from the Sarana bay region, he said, and the American forces now hold both sides of Chichagof bay and are attacking along the ridge dominating the remaining Japanese positions.

Clear weather would greatly accelerate the operations, Stimson
said. For the past week the troops have pushed their way forward
gradually through sleet and snow,
while fog has impeded air support operations. Much of the fighting has been by small patrols using bayonets and hand grenades to seize the passes in the hills.

Stimson noted that Japanese bombers, presumably operating from northern islands of the Kurile
group, had made two attacks on successive days. The first was had made an unsuccessful attack on two surface vessels. The second attack, he added, was made by 16
twin-engine bombers, which were intercepted by 6 army lightning
fighters and forced to jettison
their bombs.

Five of the bombers in the latter attack were destroyed, Stimson
said, and seven others which were damaged were last seen smoking
and losing altitude as they disappeared in a cloud bank. The remaining four bombers fled. The army lost two fighters, but one of the pilots was rescued.

WE CANNOT AFFORD STRIKES

It would be convenient if someone could point his finger at one thing in the dangerous breakdown of labor discipline and say, "Fix that and everything will be fine."

It isn't that easy. The trouble lies in many places. Labor has been made uneasy by constantly increasing signs of creeping inflation threatening its security. It has been encouraged to believe that it can get anything it wants if it makes enough trouble. It has been encouraged, also, to believe that whatever it wants it should get.

Employers' hands have been tied increasingly since the advent of the New Deal 10 years ago by measures designed to place responsibility for production in the hands of union officers and various government officials—and it is painfully evident now that they are unable to acquit themselves of that responsibility in an emergency. But that is not the only weakness.

In the country as a whole there is flabby discipline among the people. It has been too long since Pearl Harbor and the threat of actual invasion. The Americans who are doing the fighting are thousands of miles away. When they get killed, their bodies are buried in a foreign land. Those who manage to get home on leave are cleaned up and rested when they make their public appearances.

When they attempt to put their feelings about the war into words, as Capt. Rickenbacker has been doing, they are jumped on bitterly by sheltered critics at home who suspect them of some kind of evil-doing. Here at home we are still too busy worrying about what we are going to get out of the war to think seriously about what the war is going to take out of us before we can hope to win it.

Americans are trampling each other in the beginning of a panic retreat from reality. The job to be done now—immediately—is to quell the panic. There is no escape from the reality. There is vastly more to war than earning war wages and keeping abreast of the cost of living. There is more to it than retaining all the privileges of peacetime while producing for war. There is more to it than working or not working, obeying or not obeying, rawhiding or loafing, according to whim. There is sacrifice. There is blood, toil, sweat, and tears. Our Allies know this. We are still learning.

War is a test of discipline, in the front lines, in the service of supply leading up to the front lines, in the production centers feeding the war machine and throughout the population. Hitler, Mussolini and the Jap schemers figured out before this thing started that they could win because Americans lacked discipline. They were too interested in themselves, the totalitarians said, to make the sacrifices required by war.

They were wrong. This country has proved that it is not going to be pushed over the way the Nazis pushed over France. It has accomplished miracles so far, but it needs to keep on accomplishing more miracles. It cannot afford strikes. No matter how great the provocation may seem to be, it cannot afford them. We do not expect our fighting men on the seas and in the hot spots to quit fighting because they are dissatisfied—and they sometimes are—and we cannot ask our fighting men to expect us to quit producing.

Strikes are not going to make this country and its Allies lose the war, but they could if they kept on growing. They are not going to keep on growing. Americans are going to assert themselves against a thing they know in their hearts to be wrong and shameful. If their leaders are too befuddled or too cowardly to express what the people feel, they will have to raise up new leaders who will express themselves.

This is war. The enemy won't wait while we measure out the soothing syrup and untangle the red tape. He will try to take advantage of our weakness, kill more of our fighting men and increase the menace to the country.

There is no provocation, no grievance and no peevishness in wartime that justifies a halt in production.

SLOW ON THE WEAK FLANK

The habit of taking China's endurance in the war for granted is about to be given another trial by fire. Reports of Japanese preparations for a major offensive finally have matured in Chungking dispatches telling of substantial gains westward along the Yangtze river in the capital "a" direction.

In the strategy of global war, nothing could be more nicely calculated to complicate United Nations planning than new pressure brought to bear on the Chinese flank at a time when preparations for a climactic blow in Europe are absorbing the bulk of shipping and war material. There always has been the possibility that China might be knocked out of the war, pending arrival of sufficient supplies by reopening the Burma road to keep it going. It is that possibility which Japan now seems determined to exploit with a new drive.

Except for the long record of Japanese failure to bring anything to a conclusion in China, the prospect would be one of unrelieved darkness. The habit of taking China's endurance for granted is based not on wishful thinking but on Chinese performance. Granted that China is weaker now than ever before, it continues to be true that Japan, unable to win the Chinese war when it had no other enemies, is starting its new campaign under an unprecedented handicap.

The person who must heal the body must minister to the whole personality. To be the bringer of comfort in a day of bombs and blood-letting, that is the privilege of your profession in your time.—Rev. Dr. Ralph W. Sockman of New York to graduating nurses.

"HANDS OFF," SAYS CO OF C.

DENVER—Private enterprise, given an opportunity to function without government control, can furnish millions of jobs after the war, according to Eric A. Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Addressing the annual meeting of the Denver Chamber, Johnston declared:

"We don't want the government handing out a lot of government jobs after the war. We want the government to give business a chance to develop.

"If the government will keep hands off private enterprise can furnish millions of jobs after the war."

Johnston said development of commerce between the United States and South America would provide many jobs. There are endless opportunities, he declared, for the development of international trade and furtherance of the good neighbor policy.

"We don't want government operated projects to provide jobs after the war," Johnston continued, "but unless business is given some assurance that it can go ahead, we face that future in the post-war period."

In Washington they are talking of a 30 billion dollar public works program after the war, Johnston said. "When I realize what the government is planning, it frightens me," he declared. "I know that with freedom of enterprise we can do away with such plans as the WPA."

In an interview following his address, Johnston expressed hope for free enterprise "if we can get to the people."

By getting to the people, Johnston inferred he meant getting the people to vote for a business administration.

"We must make the people realize," Johnston said, "that a continued public works program will ruin the economic structure of the country."

Business must be given the green light, Johnston concluded, "if the United States is to be rich, powerful and economically free."

WARTIME BRINGS HEART TROUBLES

Problems For Doctors Increase

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
"When the foe man bares his steel,
Tarantara, tarantara!
We uncomfortable feel!
Tarantara!
For when threatened with emetics,
Tarantara, tarantara!
Our hearts are in our boots."

So sang the policeman in "The Pirates of Penzance," and I suppose every man and woman in our armed forces has had at one time or the other something of these

Dr. Clending will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

feelings. As a young fellow who had just made his first parachute jump said to me, "Anybody who tells you that he isn't scared when he jumps into the air on that first occasion is a liar."

The heart, second only to the stomach is affected by emotions. Fear, anxiety and apprehension that you will not measure up to your responsibility and duty are emotions, and since they are life in wartime, it is quite natural that we have problems for the heart specialist at this time.

The problems divide themselves into two groups: first, what heart conditions in the recruit are serious enough to warrant rejection for service; and, second, the treatment of the soldier who develops a nervous, irritable heart during active service.

Troubles of Heart Specialist
I have just read some of the troubles of a heart specialist assigned to a draft board; it takes me back to World War I. The two greatest problems were what to do with an apparently healthy recruit who had a pulse disturbance and what to do with the otherwise healthy recruit whose blood pressure was jumpy. Both of these things are, as a matter of common experience, affected by emotions.

Everybody has had the experience of having the heart pound when facing some crisis, major or minor, such as waiting to go in and ask for a job, getting up the nerve to propose marriage, walking down the aisle to get married, etc., etc. Some people's hearts are more unstable than others, so we have the problem of the nervous young man who begins to have a fast heart rate whenever a medical examiner puts a stethoscope on his chest.

The normal pulse rate is 70 to a minute. What are they going to say about a fellow who has a rate of 120 persistently over many examinations? The question is: Will he calm down after he gets in service, or will he be a liability when the guns begin to shoot and the foe man bares his steel? The English are more hard-boiled than we are and will take nearly anybody who has a pulse rate of 120. Slow pulses are not so much of a problem; nearly any of these are acceptable.

Blood Pressure
Blood pressure is very much the same thing. It rises quickly and usually under emotion. The English have continuously taken men for active service who have a blood pressure of 180 or over.

The nervous heart of the soldier is an old story. It was described in detail by the Philadelphia physician, Dr. Costa, in our own Civil War; he called it irritable soldier's heart. In World War I we gave it a very fancy name, neuro-circulatory asthenia. All we can say about it is that some people in military life develop a permanently rapid pulse—up to 120 or 160—and are easily fatigued, nervous and irritable.

My own experience was that nothing could ever be done with them and that they had better be sent back to civil life. This, however, sets a bad precedent. Dr.

Da-Costa, in the Civil war time, felt that even though the treatment was long and troublesome, it would be better to assign these men to some sort of duty than to return them to their homes.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

R. J.: I was examined for the Army and put in class 4-F on account of mitral stenosis. Please tell me what this is and how I got it.

Answer: Mitral Stenosis is a form of valvular disease of the heart. It is caused by acute inflammatory rheumatism.

H. T. M.: What is the reason for night sweating and loss of weight in a man in his middle forties?

Answer: The chances are tuberculosis 95 per cent.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clending has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clending, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

CAMP PENDELTON, Cal.—President Roosevelt now has his "President's Room" reserved for himself in the 115-year-old Santa Margarita ranch house, which has been converted into an officers' club.

When the President visited the ranch house last year, he expressed great interest in it and laughingly told the officers to reserve him a permanent room there. They took the remark seriously and set aside a room especially furnished for him and named the "President's Room." It will be used on other occasions, however, when necessary.

Former Salem Couple Wed In California Church Rites

In a beautifully appointed candle-light ceremony, Miss Dorothy Ellen Wright and Sherman Brantingham of Glendale, Calif., formerly of Salem, were married at 8:30 p. m. Thursday, May 13, at the Bresee ave. Church of the Nazarene in Pasadena, Calif. Approximately 300 relatives and friends witnessed the nuptials.

Tall white tapers, palms and baskets of white, pink and blue flowers enhanced the front of the church. The service was read by Rev. J. F. Ransom, assistant pastor of the Bresee church, assisted by Rev. Paul Martin, pastor of the Glendale Church of the Nazarene.

Following the exchange of vows two piano and vibraphone duets, "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" and "At Dawning," were played by Mrs. Harold Ransom and Mrs. Paul Martin, and Willard Kennon sang two solos, "Because" and "Walk Thou With Me." As the bride was given in marriage by her father, Rev. Harold Ransom sang "O Promise

Me." The Bridal Chorus from Loheingrin was played for the processional.

The bride wore a gown of white tulle trimmed with seed pearls at the neckline. Her finger-tip veil of silk net and lace had a coronet with seed pearls trim. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias, sweet peas and carnations. For something old she carried her great grandmother's wedding handkerchief. The locket she wore was given to her mother by her father and was worn by her mother at her wedding.

The bridesmaids, the Misses Barbara and Mary Brantingham of Long Beach, Calif., cousins of the groom, were dressed in white net over blue tulle and wore head veils to match. They carried old-fashioned bouquets of sweet peas. Miss Jean Mielke, college chum of the bride, was the maid of honor. She appeared in a gown of pink tulle with matching veil. Her bouquet was of sweet peas and roses.

Little Nellrose Ransom was flower girl and her floor length gown was made of pink satin. Lawrie Ransom carried the white satin pillow on which the young people knelt. Willard Kennon, college chum of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were Glenn Ferrell and Harrison Davis.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Y. W. C. A. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Yengling, parents of the bride, were in the receiving line. Mrs. Yengling wore a floor length dress. Her skirt was of rose jersey and the blouse was of powder blue crepe. Her shoulder corsage was of carnations and sweet peas.

Mrs. Brantingham is a graduate of Salem High school and Cleveland Bible institute. She received her B. B. degree a year ago at Pasadena college. She is employed in the drapery department at Sears-Robuck store at Glendale.

Mr. Brantingham is a son of Rev. Martin and Lydia Brantingham of Cadiz, formerly of Winona. He was graduated from Salem High school and is a theology student at Pasadena college.

Mr. and Mrs. Brantingham spent their honeymoon at Laguna Beach, Calif. They are making their home at Glendale.

Mrs. George Thomson has gone to Camp Robinson, Ark., to live while her husband is stationed there.

Mrs. Beatrice Fitzsimmons has concluded a visit with her husband, Corp. Harold Fitzsimmons, at the Municipal airport, Baltimore, Md.

The next meeting will be held June 30 at the home of Mrs. I. H. Cooke on Cleveland st.

Women's Bible Class Meets at Church

The May meeting of the Women's Bible class of the Presbyterian church was held yesterday afternoon, in charge of Mrs. Harold Babb.

Mrs. Luella Harris had charge of the devotion, which included piano selections by Mrs. Babb. Interesting current events were given by Mrs. Babb, after which a program was enjoyed. The program included two piano selections, "Prelude in C Minor" (Rachmaninoff) and "Minuet in Antiquity" by Miss Elaine McGhee; vocal duets, "Wonderful Man of Galilee" and "Until We Meet Again," by Ina Mae and Donna Lou Getz, accompanied by Mrs. Babb.

The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to sewing for the Red Cross and refreshments were served by Mrs. O. C. Jeurgens, Mrs. Babb and Mrs. Mabel Riddle.

The room and table were beautifully decorated with branches of spring blooms, the decorations being in charge of Mrs. S. N. VanBiarcom, who also presided at the table, which was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a bouquet of spring flowers.

MACHINIST UNION BREAKS WITH AFL

Half-Million Members Will Withdraw; Jurisdictional Dispute Claimed

union proposes to handle its controversy with the carpenter's union. The carpenters have been contending for the right, Brown said, to install and repair machinery. In a more recent development, they have claimed jurisdictional rights in the small, but growing wooden airplane field. The machinists claim exclusive rights in that field.

Brown said the machinists' grievances were not directly against the carpenters, but against the AFL executive council which he said, has prevented President William Green from carrying out the mandate of a convention.

Under an AFL convention ruling, Brown said the machinists received rights to install and repair machinery and that when an employer or contributor inquires of the AFL about jurisdictional lines, the president is required to supply the information to the inquiring party.

The executive council has forbidden Green to do this, Brown said. The machinist president said that every time the issue arose Hutcherson threatened to quit paying the carpenters' per capita tax and by that means got his way in the council.

NAVY WILL CLAIM MORE SELECTEES

Expects to Take Greater Share of Draft Board Contingents

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, May 27.—The Navy soon will select a greater share of the men furnished by draft boards, says Capt. W. P. Richardson, assistant chief of state selective service headquarters' manpower section.

Making the disclosure last night at a meeting of Cuyahoga county draft officials, Captain Richardson indicated the increase in naval selectees might necessitate closing some of the Army's reception centers.

He also predicted Ohio's 330 boards would exhaust their remaining supply of single and childless married registrants in August.

Application of the 3-D classification—for cases where induction would work extreme hardship and deprivation of a male dependents—was explained by Richardson.

He reported national headquarters was asking that two factors be taken into account when considering a registrant for 3-D: Will a registrant's induction deprive him dependents of food or shelter?

Pregnancy of a wife or possession of a wife and minor child does not necessarily qualify a registrant for 3-D, Richardson declared. He added that the time when a man acquired dependency of a wife, parent or child was not to govern in determining whether his induction would create "extreme hardship and deprivation" on them.

For the present the two-week post-induction furloughs beginning June 1 will be granted only to men processed into the Army, the draft official asserted. He said the Navy would not double its seven-day period of inactive status after induction until some time in July. Army selectees will be granted a 21-day furlough by Sept. 1.

NAME COMMITTEE ON BUDGET BILL

Legislators Act to Settle Differences On Appropriations

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, May 27.—The Ohio legislature, driving toward adjournment by the weekend today, created a conference committee to settle differences of the house and senate over record-breaking $369,116,129 biennial appropriation bill.

The senate passed the measure yesterday after adding $2,655,000 to the figure approved by the house, and the house refused to concur in the amendments.

Meanwhile, developments on other important legislation came fast as leaders hoped to complete work by holding sessions Friday and Saturday.

House Approves Bill

The house added its approval to the senate bill levying an unemployment insurance surtax up to one per cent on the pay rolls of manufacturers expanded by war business. The bill was passed, 101 to 18, despite a radiogram from Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson saying the legislation would impose additional expenses on the War department.

Gov. John W. Bricker commented that he was surprised at "the extent to which the undersecretary of war has gone in opposing legislation which the state legislature has given thorough consideration."

The senate passed, 26 to 3, the house bill providing prison sentences for agents and operators of the "numbers" gambling racket, but added an amendment which some sources said would jeopardize final enactment.

The house completed enactment of a program establishing a $1,500,000 rehabilitation fund for financially weak school districts, and

The house, rescinding a vote of disapproval, passed the bill of Senator P. H. Rogers (R-Lorain) authorizing the state pardon and parole commission to investigate prisoners serving life sentences for first degree murder and to recommend a pardon or commutation to the governor.

The appropriation bill, providing funds for 1943-44 operations of the state government, contains $16,221,100 more than did the 1941-42 appropriation act. It further provides that an additional $5,000,000 may be spent by the state highway department if the money is needed and the revenue is available.

Principal increases over the 1941-42 appropriations include:

Ten million dollars addition for old age pensions; $17,000,000 for improvement of state welfare and educational buildings; $5,633,000 for pay increases to state employees; $5,000,000 in extra subsidies to financially embarrassed school districts; and $4,000,000 for post-war improvement of highways.

Lipscher Votes No

Senator Maurice W. Lipscher (D) of Youngstown, who cast the only senate vote against the bill, asked Republican members why they had not reduced expenditures like California, Illinois and New York.

Lipscher said he wondered if a $900,000 increase in highway department salaries might be used to "send emissaries to the far corners of the nation" in behalf of Governor Bricker's presidential aspirations.

Lieut. Gov. Paul M. Herbert interrupted: "Are you charging that the governor intends to spend this $900,000 for political purposes? If so, do we have evidence to support the charge? It borders on a serious charge and the chair will not permit smearing."

Lipscher replied: "I am not charging. I am merely asking." Republican senators arrested the governor's financial program had received the "hearty approval" of Ohio voters when they reelected him.

4 WORDS MAY KILL RACKET MEASURE

"For His Own Profit" Amendment Returned To House

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, May 27.—Four words—"for his own profit"—today jeopardized enactment of legislation designed to drive out of business the "numbers" gambling racket barons.

The four words were inserted in the anti-numbers bill by a senate committee at the request of Senator Lawrence Kane (R) of Cincinnati.

The senate passed the bill, 26 to 3, yesterday and returned it to the house for concurrence in the "for his own profit" amendment.

An authoritative source predicted the house would refuse to concur in the amendment; that a senate-house committee would be appointed to settle the dispute, and that the legislature would adjourn before a settlement was reached.

Thus the proposed anti-numbers law, despite its approval by both the house and senate, would die without reaching Gov. John W. Bricker for his signature.

The Kane amendment would make the present anti-lottery law applicable only to a person who operated a game of chance "for his own profit." Kane said games such as bingo then could be conducted for religious, charitable or educational purposes.

"The amendment does not affect provisions of the proposed new statute which authorizes maximum three-year prison terms for numbers agents or writers and seven-year terms for operators or backers."

The original bill was drafted by Atty. Gen. Thomas J. Herbert, who said the present maximum penalty of a $500 fine and six months in jail was not severe enough to cope with the numbers racket.

Senator James P. Griffith told the senate that gambling on the New York stock and bond sales totals had developed into a million-dollar racket "which has eaten into the heart of local government and probably corrupted local officials."

"In Youngstown," he added, "it has resulted in one murder, two attempted murders and the bombing of the home of a vice squad chief."

News and Views, Briefly On What's Going On In Capital

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Although the capital's accent on news today continued on the world's far-flung hostilities, attention again was called to post-war planning. Foes of the New Deal in the senate leveled another attack on the National Resources Planning board by striving to limit its funds for the next year to $200,000. Their arguments followed the same line as previous declarations in congress against allowing this agency to handle the planning for the post-war U. S.

From another direction, the administration had its troubles. A senate bloc drew up a flock of amendments to the reciprocal trade agreement act in an effort to provide congress with veto power over these foreign pacts which now are the responsibility of the state department only. Secretary Hull has fought down the line any suggestion that his authority be subject to review.

Conferees handling pay-as-you-go taxes stubbed a toe again in their efforts to get a law on the books that takes income levies out of paychecks. They were summoned to another meeting today to iron out a difference of opinion on the amount of tax abatement to be allowed though the point in question was not considered likely to jeopardize the whole compromise. As first explained, the plan would absolve income taxes up to $50. Those who owe more than that would receive a 75 per cent forgiveness. Latest question raised was whether a person who owes more than $50 should get the 75 per cent forgiveness, plus the $50 abatement.

Theatre Attractions

Lena Horne and "Rochester" are shown in a scene from "Cabin in the Sky," scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the State theater.

Rochester, Lena Horne and Ethel Waters present some of the leading song hits in "Cabin in the Sky," which is showing at the State tonight, Friday and Saturday. Scores of dance routines and chorus numbers are also included in the colorful musical.

The main feature at the Grand tonight, Friday and Saturday is

"Haunted Ranch." John King, David Sharpe and Max Terhune are the featured trio in this fast moving story of the west, and are the principals in an exciting series of adventures arising from their pursuit of a band of criminals who have robbed a United States mint and concealed the money. Also showing is "Taxi Mister," with William Bendix and Grace Bradley.

Three-Way Mayor Race

EAST LIVERPOOL, May 27.—Harry Wilson, now a city councilman-at-large, filed a petition with the board of elections today, assuring a three-man contest for the Republican mayoralty nomination at the Aug. 10 primary election.

Wilson will oppose Mayor O. Earl Greenawalt, insurance and real estate broker, seeking a fifth term, and Jack C. Mason, a railroad brakeman, who filed previously.

HOME OWNERS

If you are a home owner, every penny counts—yet thousands of dollars are lost each year by property owners because of leaky roofs.

No need to risk costly damage when you can re-roof right over old shingles. Handsome, fireproof, permanent Flintkote Asbestos Shingles should outlast the life of the home they cover.

Flintkote Asbestos Shingles, made of imperishable materials, eliminate the ever-present menace of roof fires. Write or call today for samples and a free estimate.

lag in production or conservation.

The Nipponese are pretty well established in their main conquests, and it's going to take a lot to shift them. Their greatest strength outside the Japanese mainland is in China and Manchuria. A Chinese commentator in Chungking recently estimated the Jap forces in his country at thirty and a half divisions—say about 458,000 men. The Japanese have been moving troops from Manchuria, but there may be another half million or more there—watching Russia but available for service in China—and there are others in Korea.

New Problem For Chinese

The new Jap offensive along the Yangtze toward Chungking has raised a fresh problem for Chinese defense. This drive undoubtedly is aimed at depriving Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek of provinces which provide about his last remaining resources. It may even envisage capture of Chungking itself.

Should such a program be achieved it probably would give the Japs control of all China. The Allies would have to start from scratch to fight their way onto the continent without the help of the Chinese army.

This would be a task which might take years, but for one thing. That is air power.

Further we go the more certain it seems that air power is going to provide the solution of the Japanese problem. Of course all the other fighting services will be involved in a big way, but in trying to look ahead it would appear that there's only one method to wind up the war with Japan in our time.

That is by bombarding and blockading the Japanese mainland into submission. This presupposes that air bases will be available to the Allies. It also presupposes that the Japanese armies of occupation in foreign territory would capitulate when the homeland had been pounded into impotence—though one admits that there might be the bare possibility of Jap generals and their armies setting up a new regime on the continent and fighting it out.

Return To Jobs

CANTON, May 27.—Mainstiff returned to their jobs at The Timken Roller Bearing co.'s main plant yesterday, ending a three-day work stoppage after the company agreed to remove women operators from automatic grinding machines and place men on the jobs according to seniority. A. T. Pinkney, federal conciliator, announced.

The work stoppage involving 1,400 men was in protest of the promotion of women operators to the machine jobs, the conciliator said. The union contended the promotions violated terms of its contract with the company.

FLAG TOURNAMENT IS SET FOR MONDAY

The flag tournament at the Salem Golf club, scheduled for Sunday, will be held Monday morning. Chairman N. I. Walken of the contest committee announced today.

This change in the plans for the holiday weekend means that no special golf event will be held Sunday.

Ohio Bankers Elect

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, May 27.—Emerson J. Boyd, president of the Second National bank of Warren, is the new president of the Ohio Bankers association. He succeeds Everett D. Reese, president of the Park National bank of Newark, who was named to the executive council of the National Bankers association.

Other officers elected at the association's business meeting yesterday are Paul M. Elliot, secretary-treasurer of the Farmers Savings & Trust Co. of Mansfield, vice president, and Rodney P. Lien, vice president of the Cleveland Trust co., treasurer.

H. E. McFadden, president of the National Exchange Bank & Trust Co. of Steubenville was named to the association's nominating committee.

Officials Elect

OMAHA, May 27.—The National Association of County Officials yesterday elected Truman H. Preston of Syracuse, N. Y., president, and W. D. Ralston, Butler county, Ohio, commissioner, vice president. Cincinnati was selected as the association's 1945 convention city.

DAYLIGHT CLASHES MOST PRODUCTIVE; PIRATES WIN, 17-4

Someone Must have Sneaked Old Balata Ball In For Night Games

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
Somebody must have sneaked a supply of the original balata (pronounced baloney by the players) balls into the major league parks under cover of darkness last night.

There were two games played in the daylight yesterday and in one the Pittsburgh Pirates punished the Brooklyn Dodgers 17-4. The two teams made a total of 28 hits. In the other the New York Giants beat the Chicago Cubs 4-2 and there were 22 hits.

But after the sun had set, look what happened:

Cincinnati noosed out the Phillies 1-0 and Washington whipped the St. Louis Browns by the same score. There wasn't a swat in either game longer than a single and the four teams together made a total of only 19 hits.

Cards Beaten 4-3
Another flood-lighted affair was an 11-inning scramble at St. Louis with the Boston Braves beating the Cardinals 4-3 and even though it included a couple of Cardinal home runs it also was a pitching party.

Lou Klein and Walker Cooper hit homers for two of the six hits given up by Al Javery as he counted his fourth victory against one defeat. The Braves touched Mort Cooper for 10 safeties and won the game in the 11th when Eddie Joost led off with a single and ultimately came home on a single by Rookie Charley Workman.

This boosted the surprising Braves within half a game of the second place St. Louis Redbirds.

At Pittsburgh the Pirates scored 15 runs in the first three innings off Max Macon and Les Webber. Vince DiMaggio hit two home runs, one of them with one on and the other with two. But what really piled up the score was a series of walks by Webber, who issued nine bases on balls and forced six runs across the plate.

At Chicago the Giants scored all four of their runs in the first three innings off Paul Derringer. The fact that they were out-hit 12-10 and could do nothing in the later innings made little difference.

Oh yes, a certain mad Russian, whose name has been in the public prints so much it doesn't need repeating, made his 1943 debut and was the only Chicago player except the pitcher who failed to get a hit.

Bucky Walters Helps Reds Beat Phils, 1-0

(By Associated Press)
CINCINNATI, May 27.—Many a time and oft a pitcher, discovering that none of his mates will start a rally for him, has done the job himself and won the ball game.

Bucky Walters, whose Cincinnati Reds are adept at popping out with men on bases, is a leading proponent of the theory and he did it again last night, tucking the Philadelphia Phillies to bed, 1 to 0.

For 5 1/2 innings, neither team could get a run. Charlie Fuchs, the Phil pitcher, fanned Eric Tipton and got Ray Mueller on a grounder for two outs in the ninth.

Then Bucky got an infield single, not one of his characteristic power drives to the outfield, but something that counts as much in the books.

Even at that, there was nothing desperate about the situation, especially considering that the Reds had left men on bases in almost every other inning and reasonably could be expected to do the same now.

But while Fuchs was looking at Lonnie Frey at the plate, Bucky started for second. Fuchs forgot that you have to complete a started pitching motion and turned and threw to second. Bucky was tagged but Fuchs was charged with a balk and Bucky stayed put.

Just to be safe, Fuchs walked Frey intentionally, thinking Eddie Miller to be a soft touch. Eddie singled and Bucky scored the only run of the evening.

St. Johnson for the Phils and Elmer Riddle for the Reds are today's pitchers.

PUMMELING PITCHERS - By Jack Sords

Boudreau Won't Give In; Still Picks Indians To Win

(By Associated Press)
BOSTON, May 27.—Now that Lou Boudreau, youthful manager of the top-place Cleveland Indians, has had a chance to study all of the American league opposition at close range, he still rates his club as "the one to beat."

"I said before the season opened that we would be the ones to beat and I have not seen anything in any of the other clubs to make me change my mind," Boudreau said.

Although the Indians start their first eastern swing against the Red Sox today with only one 300 hitter, Oris Hockett, there are enough of the other regulars close enough to that charmed slugging circle to give the club a potent punch.

Boudreau is especially pleased with the Indians' balance, although he does admit, now that Mel Harder is sidelined with a fractured ankle, that he could use a fourth starting pitcher.

"Jim Bagby, Al Smith and Chubby Dean have held up very well on the mound, but Harder's loss was a terrific blow," Boudreau explained. "Since Vernon Kennedy and Al Milnar have not hit their strides, we will be handicapped until I can find a fourth starting pitcher. I have hopes that Mike Nymick will solve that problem."

Bagby, who has won five of his six 1943 pitching starts, has been taking his regular turn on the mound to date, but Boudreau appears to be picking the spots for southpaws Smith and Dean, who chalked up their third straight victories in as many starts Sunday when they knocked the Yankees out of first place.

The only serious problem now besetting Boudreau appears to be his first base situation. He has used both Roy Cullenbine and Otto Dening, a converted catcher, in that berth and it still appears to be wide open.

Ladies' League To Open Next Tuesday
Feminine bowlers, meeting last night at the Bowling Center, organized their summer circuit, and set the starting date for Tuesday, June 1.

The league now is composed of 10 teams, but, if possible, two more will be recruited and one round will be played.

Cameles will be bowled on Tuesday nights, beginning at 8 o'clock and the forfeit rule will be observed religiously. That is, if a team is not ready to bowl at 8, it will lose that particular game.

Bowlers who may like to take part in the league are asked to get in touch with Helen Caldwell or Carrie Slagle.

Officers of the league are: President, Mildred Kline; secretary, Mildred Harroff; treasurer, Betty Hull.

Little Giant
FORT SHERIDAN, Ill.—Soldiers at Fort Sheridan have been warned to do a little research into the background of Private First Class Bernard Carlson before taking any liberties with the Fort's Military Police force. Policeman Carlson is a little man, but he's strong.

In 1939 Carlson won the U. S. weight lifting crown for featherweights. Competing in the 132-pound bent press over arm division he lifted 140 pounds to take the first place medal. His home is in Brooklyn, N. Y.

11 Games For Iowa
IOWA CITY, Ia.—The University of Iowa's 1943 football schedule probably will be confined to five conference games and two non-conference games. Conference titles probably will be Wisconsin, Indiana, Illinois, Purdue and Minnesota, with other games calling for Nebraska and a service team.

Medal Winners Serving
IOWA CITY, Ia.—At least half the men who won the University of Iowa's Big Ten medal for proficiency in athletics and scholarship during the past 20 years are now serving in the armed forces.

LATIN BASEBALL STARS VINDICATE CLARK GRIFFITH

Cuban Diamond Talent Makes Good for Washington Club Owner

By DILLON GRAHAM
AP Feature Sports Editor
NEW YORK—Clark Griffith, the old grey fox with the panache, is chucking these days at his baseball rivals who snickered when he imported that batch of Cuban players.

Most of the quips making the rounds of the spring training belt in Florida, some years ago, centered around the Washington owner and the Cubans, Puerto Ricans and South Americans he had assembled at his Orlando camp. The idea that these neighbors from the south could play ball was ridiculous, not to say ludicrous.

Other Clubs Follow Suit
Griff just holed in behind the smoke of his thin cigar and continued giving his Spanish speaking athletes the once over.

Some stuck and performed so well that other clubs began signing these foreigners from south of the border. Right now the A's, Cubs and Senators are cashing in on their imports, the other clubs are envious, the Giants are giving the experiment a try at first base and only Bucky Harris of the Phillies is undisturbed.

It was Harris, then manager of the Senators, who bore the brunt of the Cuban invasion. Griff had so many gentlemen from Havana and Almadenares that they got into Bucky's hair. Everywhere he turned he bumped into one.

It got so that he practically had to carry an interpreter around with him. Whenever he walked out to the mound to correct a pitching motion, fault he had to say his piece to the interpreter and then stand around impatiently, shifting from one foot to another, while his orders were translated. Harris no spika da Spanish and the chatter of these foreign recruits sounded like geechee to him.

Cambria Started It
The real pioneer in Cuban talent wasn't Griff. It was a stocky little chap called Joe Cambria, a laundryman, as I recall, who doubled as a scout for the Senators.

Cambria apparently had the market cornered in the countries to the south and turned up every spring with a fresh crop. Cambria was a good salesman, he talked a great game for each of his prospects.

Four years ago he came up with a towering giant named Roberto Ortiz, who was tabbed as another Walter Johnson. The guy was awfully fast but he had only a shady notion as to the location of the plate.

The giant Cuban's first Washington outing was a disaster. He was out of the park in the first inning, and he was out of the park in the first inning, and he was out of the park in the first inning.

That was a good move. Last year outfielder Ortiz, playing with Chattanooga, led southern Association batters with 360. The Phillies grabbed him. But that was before Harris was named manager. One of his first acts was to let Ortiz go to the Dodgers, who shunted him to Montreal.

Giants Try Cuban
The Giants are the latest to try the Cuban way. Old Doc Luque, perhaps the greatest of the major league pitchers produced by the island republic, probably whispered into Mel Ott's ear of the exploits of his countrymen. Anyway, the Giants called up Napoleon Reyes, from their Jersey City farm, for a try at first base.

Sensation of this young season has been Jesse Flores, the little Mexican has won five games in a row for the A's. Connie Mack has another Cuban, Roberto Estalella, in the outfield. Washington brought Roberto up, too, some years ago.

And the Senators are very happy over the success of Alejandro (Alex) Carrasquel, a pitcher they've had for three years who is suspected of owning a few years more than the 30 he admits. Alex, from Caracas, Venezuela, has won four straight with a setback.

The Cubs have Hiram Bithorn, a Puerto Rican, who takes a regular pitching turn, and Salvador Hernandez, a catcher from Havana. Brooklyn had an outfielder from Puerto Rico, Luis Olmo, but he was shipped to Montreal.

Yep, the only time Griffith isn't chuckling over the fireworks of the chaps from down south is when Flores pitches against the Senators.

Ortiz Retains His Bantam Crown by Beating Robbleto
LONG BEACH, Calif., May 27.—Manuel Ortiz, a rugged, two-fisted Mexican, has just proved it is better to get in one solid punch than two or three of the powder puff variety.

Ortiz demonstrated this premise last night at the expense of fast and clever Joe Robbleto. In so doing, he retained the world's bantamweight crown, which he wrested last October from Lou Salica.

The El Centro, Calif., Mexican whipped a game and courageous boy, one who traded punches with him all the way and won the plaudits of a crowd of 4,000. Ortiz weighed 118, Robbleto 117.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK, May 27.—The international league claims to have two of the youngest pro baseball players in captivity in John Henry Moesch, Baltimore infielder, who was 16 last December, and Walter Dwyer, 17-year-old southpaw pitcher of Jersey City. . . . If they get any bad decisions, the fans can holler "cradle robber" at the umpire. . . .

STRANGE SITUATION
Pity the plight of the poor, helpless Yanks. Whose river of woe is out of its banks. They can't play a game on account of the weather. And they find second place is no bed of feathers.

SHORTS AND SHELLS
Lebanon, Conn., which was bidding for the spotlight in a national baseball day because Abner Doubleday's father is supposed to have lived there, must be the victim of a mixup in the records. Abner's dad, Ulysses, was an upstate New York publisher and was elected to congress there. . . . New Orleans is looking for a big entry and fine performances at its A. A. U. track meet, May 30, which will be the only one this year in that part of the country.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR
Harry Sheer, Madison (Wis.) Capital Times: "Tony Galento tried an 'exhibition comeback' at Milwaukee with two sparring partners and came out with a victory—garçon. . . . Tomatoes and two stalks of celery—without salt. Tony was using that himself to catch his opponents."

QUOTE, UNQUOTE
Ernest Jones, pro golf's leading "swing" student: "Trying to take a golf swing apart and analyze it is like a horse trainer taking slow motion pictures of a horse with perfect attitude. They'd show all sorts of queer attitudes, and what a time he'd have if he tried to teach all horses to get into the same positions."

SERVICE DEPARTMENT
Pvt. Artie Dorell, former top-flight welterweight, has received permission to teach the rudiments of boxing to his flight of air corps trainees at the university of Arkansas—on his own time. . . . Port Monmouth, N. J., claims a record of some sort with two no-hit baseball games on successive days. The 1928th Service unit was the victim both times, losing 10-0 to the 15th Signal training unit, which used three pitchers, and 12-0 to the Camp Wood team, with Mel Shap-sowitz, former Brooklyn college fliker, on the hill.

DEATH GOES NATIVE

By MAX LONG

CHAPTER THIRTY-THREE

My guard marshalled me to the lanai where I took my former seat. The others drifted in—all but the Lathams and Elaine. They had evidently taken her home. Finally Ota took his place at the table and Komako joined him. Then the jury filed in. They did not sit down, but stood solemnly in a double line. The rotund Hawaiian stepped forward as foreman.

"You have come to a decision?" Ota asked.

"Mr. Delmar dead," the foreman said slowly, perspiring with the weight of his responsibility. "Mrs. Delmar dead. With fish spear and with knife." He pointed to the articles on the table.

"All right," Ota prompted. "Stabbed by whom?"

The foreman hesitated and rolled his eyes toward Komako. "Us jury think Komako would know if Mr. Hasty had fellow."

Ota rapped sharply on the table. "Who does the jury think killed Mr. and Mrs. Delmar?"

Another Hawaiian grizzled and full of age, and Mr. Hasty gave salmon to us. Good aikane to all of us."

"That's not the point!" Ota snapped. "Whose spear and whose knife are those? Who quarreled with Delmar and threatened him?"

The old Hawaiian drew himself up with offended dignity. "Us is jury. Us do like us think good... Maybe next election we not vote for you, Sam Ota."

The fat foreman bestirred himself and spoke. "Me, I speak for jury. If Mr. Hasty kill Mr. Delmar it is for plenty good reason. But Mrs. Delmar not knock him down. For why he want to kill her?"

"Do you want to bind him over to the grand jury or not?" Ota asked wearily, dusting more soda into his glass.

That was too much for the foreman. It had to be explained in Hawaiian. Then he beamed in a relieved way. The whole jury beamed. They beamed at me, as if they were doing something very, very nice for me.

"Yes, us do that," he affirmed heartily. "Us got nothing against Mr. Hasty. Plenty of time for big court to find out if he do killing."

And plenty of time for me to languish in jail!

The inquest had been a weird performance, but it was legal enough. I sat there, envisioning the jail that awaited me, seeing it as a foul place in some primitive town amidst the plantations. I worried about the long trip on foot up the trail in Ota's custody. I worried about leaving the sampan and all my possessions. All the while I was vaguely aware that Ota was dismissing the jury. I looked reproachfully at Komako, feeling that he should have stopped these proceedings, somehow, to give us a chance at further investigation.

Komako was slumped in his chair gazing out speculatively from under his bushy eyebrows. I saw that he was studying the group of colonists. They didn't look particularly elated—the Rawsons, in fact, appearing crestfallen. Budd suddenly clapped his hands down on the arm of his chair with an air of "Well, that's that!" and turned to Turva Massie.

"How about some coffee?" Turva jumped up immediately as if in relief. "I'll make some. Come along, all of you."

They started to troop out and Turva stopped beside Komako. "Won't you come and have coffee, too?" she asked, smiling at him. Komako got up, looking pleased. "Sure, sure! I not had any lunch and 'most starve."

She linked her arm in his, evidently expecting him to accompany her, but Komako held back. "You go get water boiling. I be there in minute."

My guard stepped up beside me.

and Herb, as he passed, could not resist tossing me a look of triumph. Komako left Turva and came over to me, saying to the young cop:

"Come, come, we all go talk to Sam Ota."

We found Ota ingratiating himself with the old Hawaiian jurymen who had threatened mutiny at the polls. He was no doubt fixing the fences in case he should one day run for sheriff. Komako got him away and all four of us moved off out of sight and earshot. Komako began at once:

"Now Sam, this case not close yet. Something happen you not know about—you not let Hasty tell." And he launched into the story of the fake confession, the footprints on the sampan, the poisoned whisky. "You can see, Sam, murderer was getting scared, try to fix so everybody is sure Hasty done it, 'cause Hasty will be dead."

He clucked with convincing horror. Ota looked at me biliously, disinclined to believe a word of it, and was obviously surprised when his young deputy produced the evidence from his pocket.

"I don't know if it is poison," my witness said cautiously as he handed it over. "Or if he wrote that note himself. He wrote the first part of the page, he says."

Sam Ota considered morosely, took the bottle of whisky from his assistant, smelled it, then shook his head. "I can't tell if it is poisoned," He handed it back.

"A laboratory test will tell," I said, "and look at the difference in typing on that page!"

He read the note through carefully. Komako did some more urging in his own language. Finally Ota said:

"I feel too sick!"

"Me, I know you do," Komako said with ready sympathy. "More better you go lie down. Let me work on this one—but I want Hasty along with me."

"I don't care," Ota said grumpily, "so long as you don't let him try to run away or get hold of another knife. I want him ready to go up to jail with me late this afternoon when it is not so hot."

Komako made extravagant promises about keeping me intact and commiserated with Ota once more, then we set off together, sloughing off my guard at last.

"We go to Miss Turva's and get coffee," Komako proposed, pulling an end of the blue cover of his

blank play into view above his pocket.

"The whole gang will be there," I said, "but you may have to work on them alone. They'll never let me in!"

On nearing the cottages we saw that the Hawaiians had not gone back to their village, but still hung around in groups on the path, talking over the exciting events of the past hours—probably the most exciting some of them would ever know. Komako hailed Mokino jovially, and the old boy actually gave me a friendly nod and a wave of my meerschaum. Henry and Mary gave me shy grins. It was clear that none of them had any comprehension of the box I was in.

Gwen and Gerald Rawson reached Turva's lanai just ahead of us, and Budd left off expounding to the Wests to greet them loudly:

"It's time you got here! What was all that horseplay about?"

"We made a try for something," Gwen began, and Rawson finished, "But it didn't come off. Let's forget the whole thing!"

Josephine said, "Oh, no, tell us! You were probably awfully good if we fell—"

Silence fell as Komako and I walked in. Beyond the others, in the living room, I saw Herb letting off some of his high spirits by tossing and catching the lauhala footstool. Komako had helped Turva weave, and then Turva came from her kitchen with a tray of dishes and things. Thorton jumped to relieve her of the burden and she made a dive for Herb.

"For heaven's sake, put that down," she said as he tossed it again. "It isn't a football—" She stopped as she saw me hesitating behind Komako.

"I bring Hasty, too," Komako said blandly. "He need coffee more as anybody."

She nodded. "I suppose he does. I'll get another cup. The coffee's nearly ready. Oh, and, Gwen, I have tea for you and Gerald."

Herb advanced belligerently toward Komako. "What do you think this is—a going-away party for your pal?"

Komako did not rise to the bait, he only took the footstool from Herb and reproved them mildly:

"See you loose where is fasten together on edge. Miss Turva work so hard on this, too."

"He's a pest," Turva said. "But never mind. I can fix it." She set it down by the couch, swept the couch clear of some books so we could sit down, and sniffed the air. "Toasts' burning!" she cried and rushed to the kitchen.

Gwen sprang up to follow her. "I'll help you, Turva."

I was just thinking that none of these people could believe in his heart that I had committed the crimes, or they would not have permitted Komako to bring me here, when I heard Budd's sardonic chuckle behind us and turned to hear him say to Thorton:

"This must be the quaintest place on earth! That inquest had its humorous moments—but did you ever hear of a prisoner held for two murders going social?"

Nobody answered. Komako picked up the footstool and began industriously to mend it, pulling out a few strands so that he might weave it smoothly over the break. Suddenly he looked up at Budd.

"That was mean thing Delmar tell in his play, no?"

"His play?" Budd said as if puzzled.

But Herb spoke out of turn, as usual, saying with rising heat: "It was a dirty trick, that's what! Living here like friends and then writing us up like that. It was a stab in the back!"

That combination of words made me shudder, but Komako said quietly, "Sure, sure. But Delmar and Missus get stab in back for writing it."

There were some murmurs from the others, and Budd laughed. "That would be hard to prove."

Komako quit his attempt to weave in the lauhala strands set the footstool on the floor and looked straight at Budd. "I got plenty proof, Mr. Budd."

He was bluffing, and I knew it, and I had a brief vision of those blank pages under the blue cover in his pocket. But before Budd could answer, Dr. Latham came in and crossed straight to Komako.

"Elaine remembers something," he said, "that she thinks you ought to know. I didn't want her to make the effort to come over, so she insisted that I come and tell you at once."

The population of Hunan and Hubei, two provinces in China, exceeds one third that of the United States.

BERKELEY, Calif.—O. A. Jes-chen boasts of what he believes to be the most patriotic bunch of 12 White Leghorns in the United States when it comes to making contributions to the war food effort. He insists that not only do they lay eggs better than any standard egg container will hold, as well as double-yolked and triple-yolked eggs, but to cap their effort the 12 hens laid 13 eggs in one day.

Diamond Island, 140 miles south of Rangoon, was a haven for giant turtles until occupied by the Japanese.
